Between Philadelphia and

Detroit.

PHILADELPHIA. PA. September 15.
—There is great public interest in the series of baseball games beginning Aomorrow in this city between the Detroit and Philadelphia American League teams. Both teams are hat contenders for the league leadership, only a few points separating them, and it is generally conceded that the four games beginning to-morrow will settle the championship. This interest has been heightened by the discussion of an incident of the recent series in Detroit between the same teams, when Baker, third baseman of the Philadelphia Club, was spiked on the arm by "Ty" Cobb, as the latter slid into third. Much has been published about the accident. Cobb vigorously denying any intention to inure Baker, and the friends of the latter claiming that Cobb desired to main Baker, and thus put a strong rival player out of the game. Today Director of Public Safety Henry Clay, who is an old-time amateur player and a lover of the game, announced that he had ordered a sufficient detail of police, headed by the most capable lieutenants and sergeants, to preserve order at the grounds while the Detroits are playing here.

Today Director of Public Safety Henry Clay, who is an old-time amateur player and a lover of the game, announced that he had ordered a sufficient detail of police, headed by the most capable lieutenants and sergeants, to preserve order at the grounds while the Detroits are playing here.

Today Director of Public Safety Henry Clay, who is an old-time amateur player and a lover of the game, and the other Detroit players are protected both on and off the field. I have read all that has been printed on the subject of Cobb's alleged attack on Baker, and I realize that the minds of the local partisans may be inflamed, and I will, therefore, give my personal attention to the welfare of the Detroit team while in our city."
